Please introduce yourself. Describe your work, your family life, and a personal goal you are working on these days.

IL

I am an engineer and I live with my family. My weekdays are centered on work and family responsibilities.

IM

These days, I am trying to recover fully from a minor injury while keeping a steady routine. I avoid dramatic plans and focus on small actions I can repeat safely. That practical approach fits me because I value consistency more than short bursts of effort.
